Tips for Timeshare Owners

Trading Power – Many owners want to know how does Trading Power work? RCI determines the trading power of your deposited week. Trading Power is the value assigned by RCI to your week at the time of deposit and used by RCI to fulfill an Exchange Request. For more information on Trading Power and how RCI determines the value of your deposit click here.

Reminder for our floating weeks owners at Summit and Eagle Trace Owners – Reservations for floating weeks owners are done on first-come, first-served space available basis. This means once your maintenance fees are paid, you can log into the Owner's Website to complete your reservation. You can also email reservations@massresort.com or reach out to Reservations at 540.289.4904, option 2.

Your ownership states that you purchased the right to request a week's vacation on a space-available basis. During the first 5 months of the year we have a lot of units go unrequested. To avoid this situation always call as early as possible - the earlier the better!

Want to deposit your week with RCI? After requesting your week assignment – direct us to deposit your week with RCI as early as possible making sure you maximize Trading Power for your future RCI Exchange.
